Reverse Trade Show

August 10th at the Hinds Community College, Clyde Muse Center in Pearl, MS

What is a Reverse Trade Show? It is an excellent way to make multiple contacts with procurement professionals from numerous governmental agencies, in one location, in one day! It is called a Reverse Trade Show because the governmental agencies host the booths and suppliers roam the trade show to meet with individuals from each entity. The Vendor may spend as much time as they wish at any given booth; just bring plenty business cards!

We have 40-50 booths, each occupied by procurement professionals from various state, county, municipality, school, college, and similar entities. We also have educational sessions for Vendors, such as "How to do business with Mississippi entities".

A delicious networking lunch is provided.
